Senate Ratifies Nuclear Test Ban Agreement 80-19

Zirwas, Murder Suspect, Captured

Bids To Attach Riders Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate ratified the history-making limited nuclear test ban treaty today.

Approval of the pact banning nuclear weapons testing in the atmosphere, in outer space and underwater, came after more than two weeks of committee hearings and an equal time of Senate debate.

With a two-thirds vote of the Senate required for approval, the resolution went through on a 80-19 roll call.

The treaty was signed at Moscow Aug. 5 by the United States, Soviet Russia and Great Britain.

It was sent to the Senate by President Kennedy Aug. 8 with these words: "While it will not end the threat of nuclear war or outlaw the use of nuclear weapons, it can reduce world tensions, open a way to further agreements and 'help to ease the threat of war.'"

Opponents, who fought vainly to the last, contended it jeopardizes national security, freezes a Soviet advantage in high-yield weapons and permits the Russians to continue development underground in the small weapons field where this country now leads.

The treaty came under scathing attack from Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, John Stennis, D-Miss., who heads its Preparedness subcommittee, Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and others.

Russell voiced fears it might be the first step toward complete disarmament without the safeguard of inspection. He and the others said they were concerned that Soviet moratorium-breaking atmospheric tests in 1961 and 1962 put them at an advantage in high yield weapons, in anti-ballistic weapons system knowledge and in ways to harden missile emplacements.

In the end, an overwhelming majority of the Senate went along with the endorsement of the military Joint Chiefs of Staff, who said that with four specified safeguards, the military "risks and disadvantages," were acceptable.

Kennedy, in a letter read to the Senate by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the Republican leader gave the Senate "unqualified support."

North Jackson Pilot Dies In Plane Crash

Frank Peterchak, 27, of Newton Falls Road in North Jackson, was killed yesterday when the Piper Comanche plane he was ferrying from Newfoundland to London crashed on takeoff.

His plane reportedly spun in from about 500 feet, right after takeoff from Gander, Newfoundland.

Peterchak was an overseas delivery pilot for Max Conrad Aviation. Early this year he became the second man in commercial aviation to ferry a small single-engine plane across the Pacific to Australia.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterchak, were notified of the accident. Three planes were in the flight. The other two returned to Gander.

Peterchak was reared in North Jackson and served in the Army during the Korean War.

Greene To Assume Marine Command

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Wallace M. Greene will become commandant of the Marine Corps Dec. 31 when the four-year term of Gen. David M. Shoup expires, the White House announced today.

White House sources said President Kennedy sought to appoint Shoup to a second four-year term. Shoup declined, saying he did not think his health would permit him to serve another term and he thought it was healthy for the Marine Corps to have a periodic change in commandant.

Greene has been the Marine Corps chief of staff in Washington since Jan. 1, 1960.

During World War II, he served in London, the Marshall Islands, Saipan and Tinian.

He was born in Burlington, Vt., Dec. 27, 1907, and lived there until his appointment to the United States Naval Academy. He was graduated in 1930.

HEAVY EQUIPMENT CLEARS INDUSTRIAL SITE — Three pans and four bulldozers are being used as the Salem Area Industrial Development Corporation rushes to complete clearing and leveling work on the former Smith Well Field in the west end of town before the first week in October when officials of an unidentified company will view the site. The company is considering the 60-acre tract as a possible location for a 10 to 12 million dollar plant. Smoke in the background is from burning debris.

House Begins Tax Bill Debate

Vote Expected on Measure Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House begins debating an $11-billion tax cut today with administration forces fighting against time.

The issue is not whether the biggest tax cut in U.S. history can be passed. The Kennedy lieutenants' problem is to get it through the clogged congressional channels this year and defeat a Republican-backed amendment that would cancel the cut unless a limit is placed on the budget.

Expected To Be Close

The key votes in the House are scheduled Wednesday and are expected to be close. Both sides claimed victory.

The timing problem centers in the Senate, where the bill would collide with the civil rights issue, sure to produce long debate.

Moreover, it would be under the jurisdiction of the Finance Committee, whose chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., opposes tax cuts without spending cuts.

By Treasury calculations, the bill would provide the following tax reductions for four-person families:

For the household of a $5,000 worker, $106 a year; a $10,000 salaried man, $202; a $30,000 executive, $1,004; a $100,000 business leader, $5,278.

The bill would put two-thirds of these cuts in effect Jan. 1, the rest a year later.

The corporate income tax would be cut, also in two stages, from 52 per cent to 48 per cent.

The individual income tax reductions when fully effective are estimated to total $8.75 billion a year, the corporate cut $2.31 billion.

Kennedy has appealed for enactment of the bill by Jan. 1 without what he called "if" or "when" conditions. That would require final action in both House and Senate, and reconciling of any differences, before Congress goes home this year.

Some fiscally conservative Democrats in the House are sure to vote for the spending amendment.

Republican leaders have predicted that a great majority of their party will vote against the bill unless the spending condition is attached.

The Republican amendment would provide that the tax cut would not go into effect unless the President submits estimates of spending totaling not more than $97 billion for the current government bookkeeping year, which began July 1, and $98 billion for the succeeding year.

Spending now is about $98 billion annually—$1 billion above the proposed limit for this year—and preliminary plans indicate a rise of several billion next year.

School Board To Borrow $140,000

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

The Salem Board of Education voted Monday night to borrow what is considered a record sum of $140,000 against anticipated revenue, including $100,000 needed to meet the payrolls of Sept. 30 and Oct. 15, and $40,000 to pay current bills.

Robert Campbell moved to make the loan and Dr. Ralph Starbuck seconded the motion.

The loan was approved in anticipation of receipt of some $200,000 from the final real estate tax settlement in mid- or late October and a state foundation payment in late November.

In other action, the board awarded a coal-supplying contract to the Industrial Mining Co. of near Lisbon at a quoted figure of $5.65 per ton, a nickel less per ton than last year.

The contract was awarded after consideration of four other bids ranging from Industrial's low to $8.05.

Other bids submitted were: Tony Colian Jr., $6.50 a ton; D. W. Dickey and Son of Lisbon, $7.25 per ton; Salem Concrete and Supply Co., $7.25 per ton; and East Fairfield Coal Co., $8.05 per ton. Colian quoted a price of $5.50 for a crushed coal, but this was not

Board OKs Budget For Tech School

The employment of two new instructors, one full-time and one part-time, and a 1963-64 budget of $65,483.22 for the Salem School of Technology were approved by the Salem Board of Education Monday night. The budget is an approximate $8,000 increase over last year.

Classes started Monday with 55 new pupils and 15 second-year pupils enrolled.

Actual operating revenue for the school amounted to $57,146, although $59,962 had been expected. Although expenses were estimated to run more than $60,000 last year, $53,000 was actually spent.

Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith said the institution is largely self-supporting with most of the income derived from tuition and state monies. Tuition amounted to approximately half the total revenue last year. The expense to the Salem school system is merely the cost of heating, lighting and the phone bills, Smith said.

James Pandolph of 836 E. 3rd St. was hired at a salary of $6,800 to teach mathematics full-considered satisfactory for the schools' heating plants.

Clyde Wright, maintenance supervisor, reported that the grading and seeding of the Reilly football practice field just west of the stadium has been completed and is expected to be ready for use next fall. Gridders now practice at Centennial Park.

Original plans called for removing bricks beneath the topsoil on the site of a former kiln but this plan was abandoned as too costly. Wright said the system would cost about $1,200, or some $600 less than anticipated.

The board hired Mary Ostrom as a cleaning matron, effective Monday, at a rate of $1.10 an hour and named Mrs. Barbara Whitney as library assistant to work three days a week at a rate of $1.30 an hour.

Supt. Smith reported that arrangements have been made between elementary principals and Miss Nellie Glass, public librarian, to:

(1) discontinue direct service to children at school.

(2) distribute a loan collection of 200 books to each school with the schools using volunteer help

3,788 Enrolled In City Schools

School Attendance Reviewed by Board

School population figures released by Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith at the Board of Education's meeting indicates a fairly stable picture over the past few years but with a shifting scene among the various school levels.

This year's total enrollment is 3,788, or 31 more than the 1962-63 year and 133 more than in 1961-62. Numbers in the junior and senior high schools have risen slightly since last year while numbers in the elementary grades and kindergarten have dropped slightly.

In grades 10 through 12 Smith lists 841 compared to 781 in 1962 and 667 in 1961. In grades 7 through 9, students total 855 compared to 839 last year and 864 the year before.

Kindergarten has declined from 323 in 1961 to 314 in 1962 and to one through six runs 1,783, or 30 less than last year. In 1961 those six grades had 1,801.

Reilly School has the largest enrollment at 638, including 536 in grades one through six and 102 in kindergarten. Other enrollments, in order of size, are: Fourth St., 582 (70 kindergarten); McKinley, 371 (62 kindergarten); Prospect, 328 (49 kindergarten); Buckeye, 174 (27 kindergarten).

A breakdown of junior and senior high enrollments shows 283 seventh graders; 277 eighth graders; 295 ninth graders 335 sophomores; 304 juniors; and 202 seniors.

The figures indicate that senior high school enrollment will increase next year, then start to fall off somewhat.

A calculation of pupil-teacher ratios at the five elementary schools show that Salem is in a fairly good position with an average of 27 students per instructor. They range from 28.5 pupils per teacher at Fourth St. to 24.5 at Buckeye. Other ratios are 25.7 at

MINOR AUTO MISHAPS

Two minor mishaps were investigated Monday by city police.

A car driven by Peter Stankovich, 67, of Salem and a truck driven by Frederick D. Capel, 28, of 1375 Jennings Ave., collided on Sugartree Alley south of The Salem News building. According to police, Capel was backing his truck from a parking space and was struck by Stankovich's car.

A car owned by Mildred L. McGee of 400 Washington Ave., coasted backwards out of the Sears garage parking area on S. Ellsworth Ave. and struck a vehicle operated by Donald S. Martig of 500 E. Perry St., which was halted at the traffic light.

Fugitive Nabbed After Shooting In Las Vegas

The search for David Zirwas, sought for five days in connection with an Ohio crime spree in which one man was killed and a woman was abducted and raped, ended in Nevada Monday night. The 28-year-old Lake Milton man was arrested after a hitchhiker was robbed, shot and left for dead.

Detectives said the hitchhiker, Terry Houk of Independence, Kan., struggled to a highway, where he was found by passersby and was able to give information which led to the arrest of Zirwas in downtown Las Vegas.

Houk told police Zirwas picked him up, drove him to a spot near Lake Mead, robbed him of $70 and shot him in the head and shoulder. The shooting took place about 2 p.m., police estimate. It was five hours after that Houk, covered with blood, staggered to a highway and flagged down a car.

The description he gave of Zirwas' car enabled police to locate the fugitive. Police said they found Houk's wallet and a gun in Zirwas' car enabled police to locate critical condition at a hospital in Henderson, Nev.

Filed Fugitive Warrant

Federal authorities had filed a fugitive warrant in Youngstown at the request of Trumbull County Prosecutor Lynn B. Griffith.

Niles' police said he had been identified by pictures shown victims of the crime spree.

Victims of the slaying was a vending machine company employee, Ben Krawiecki, 46, of Youngstown, who was gunned down on a Niles street corner last Thursday. That shooting was seen by several persons, including uti-

22 Teachers Are Granted Salary Hikes

Salary increases were granted by the Salem Board of Education Monday night to 22 school teachers or other staff members who have secured additional training or who have been assigned to extra-curricular activities.

The raises are in keeping with the basic salary policy established by the board and are based on either professional improvement, longevity increased duties or a combination of these.

New salaries are listed below:

Barbara Cobourn, $4,750; Helen Heim, $6,950; Doris Cope, $7,050; Janis Yereb, $4,850; Robert Roller $5,300; Jack Alexander, $5,600; Jean Pridon, $5,500.

Jane Eckstein, $5,675; Ruth Emery, $6,575; Lloyd Fitzpatrick, $4,950; Harry Izenour, $4,550; Walter Newton $6,200; Harold Paxson, $6,150.

Winston Lora, $5,625; Barbara Earley, $5,150; Robert Carbaugh, $5,350; Merlin Davidson, $5,475; Betty Thatcher, $4,450 (from part-time to full-time); Ruth Zeller, $3,900; Geraldine Van Hovel, $3,900; Thelma Brudery, $5,975; Roma Reese, $6,575.

The figures indicate that senior high school enrollment will increase next year, then start to fall off somewhat.

Youngstown Man Hurt In Fight Dies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — John Heini, 21, of Youngstown, injured in a fight over a parking place on a city street, died early today in a South Side Hospital.

Heini, accompanied by a girl, had driven into a parking space ahead of another car Sunday. Police said the driver of the other car became so angered that he got out of his car and hit Heini.

Heini's head hit the sidewalk, and he was unconscious from then until he died. The coroner planned an autopsy.

Police said they have the license number of the assailant's car and a description of the man, who is being sought.

Kennedy Begins Speaking Tour

Journey Is Billed As 'Non-Political'

MILFORD, Pa. (AP) — President Kennedy flies here today for the first of 12 speeches on a cross-country tour which he labeled "a journey to save America's natural heritage."

The 10,000-mile presidential trip through 12 states was billed as "non-political" by the White House, though Kennedy certainly hopes to confront many thousands of voters along the way.

A bipartisan aura was given to the stop at Milford, on the Delaware River in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Kennedy put Milford on his itinerary in order to visit the ancestral home of the late Gifford Pinchot, a Republican who twice was governor of the state but who won greater fame as "the father of conservation."

Republican Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania was invited to join Kennedy and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., for the formal dedication of the 100-acre Grey Towers Estate as the Pinchot Institute for Conservation...

Scranton has been mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate in 1964.

Even before Kennedy's departure from Washington, the White House made public the text of his talk at the Pinchot ceremony.

This was the opening passage: "I begin today a journey to save America's natural heritage — a journey to preserve the past and protect the future."

This was a reference to the fact that inspections of conservation and natural resource projects and talks before conservation-minded

Auto Bombings Aimed At Informers

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Aug. 23 auto bombing and an attempt to dynamite another car last Saturday were aimed at informers in a major narcotics investigation, police say.

Reports that Cleveland hoodlums were trying to silence two informers in the bombing attempts were confirmed Monday by Police Chief Richard R. Wagner, Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan and Detective Inspector James Limber.

Corrigan said the intended bombing victims are material witnesses in an impending crack-down on large-scale dope operations and are being held. At least four other police informants are in jail for their own protection, he added. Corrigan said evidence in the narcotics probe would be presented to the grand jury.

The Aug. 23 bombing ripped apart a 39-year-old East Side man's auto, seriously injuring his right leg.

The Saturday bombing attempt failed because a 49-year-old East Side woman became suspicious when she saw her car hood ajar.

She found four sticks of dynamite connected to the ignition. Police described her boy friend as a police informer.

That White Stuff Today Was Frost

Frost, arriving more than a week ahead of the average date (Oct. 4) of the first killing frost in this area, was quite evident in Salem this morning, the second day of fall. Late garden crops were hit.

Crisp, cool air again produced temperatures in the 30s and 40s through Ohio late Monday night and early today.

Youngstown dipped to 36 while Zanesville had 38. Elsewhere, temperatures included Columbus 42, Cincinnati 45 and Marietta 41.

A slight warming trend will begin today as high pressure covering the entire eastern section of the country moves slowly eastward, resulting in southeasterly winds in the Buckeye State.

Temperatures today, under mostly sunny skies, were expected to reach the 60s in portions of the northern counties and the 70s elsewhere.

Tonight will be mostly fair and not quite so cool, followed by partly cloudy and warmer Wednesday.

Each Charges Border Violation

Dominican Republic, Haiti Indulge In War of Words

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—The latest crisis between Haiti and the Dominican Republic simmered down to another war of words today after each accused the other of firing across the border.

Haitian troops were reported to have fired Monday into a Dominican border town, apparently trying vainly to head off a rebel chief and his band who had just lost a battle in a Haitian frontier town.

Dominican officials interned about 120 fugitives.

Informants said the rebels were headed by Haitian ex-Gen. Leon Cantave, who last month led a band of exiles in an invasion attempt to overthrow Haitian dictator Francois Duvalier. Haiti charged the Dominican Republic aided Cantave's operation. Santo Domingo denied it.

As the rebel band streamed across the border, witnesses reported rifle and machine gun bullets hit the Dominican town of Djabon.

Haiti denied its forces fired across the border. In turn it accused Dominican soldiers of firing into the Haitian town of Quanamino.

Informants said Cantave reported that he led a rebel force against Quanamino, ran into a government garrison of 500 men, and lost 60 men killed before retreating across the border. He claimed Haitian forces had 100 casualties.

From Washington, President Gonzalo Facio of the council of the Organization of American States messages appeals to both President Juan Bosch of the Dominican Republic and Haitian President Duvalier to avoid any action that might inflame the situation.

Euromart Offers Small Tariff Cut On U.S. Poultry

BRUSSELS (AP)—The European Common Market offered the United States a small cut in its tariff on U.S. poultry today but demanded that Americans abandon the idea of further negotiations on the issue.

The demand made double certain that the United States would reject the offer to trim 1.3 cents from the 13.41 cents-a-pound duty, a 10 per cent cut in a tariff the Common Market raised 100 per cent last year.

The United States was expected to press for negotiation of the dispute by the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the 45-nation international trade organization.

It took the foreign ministers of the six market nations—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—only 20 minutes to reach a unanimous decision.

Christian A. Herter, President Kennedy's chief negotiator here, had said earlier the 1.3-cent reduction was inadequate.

A French spokesman said the U.S. proposal for arbitration of the dispute by GATT was badly received and was not even discussed.

The United States is expected to announce retaliatory tariff increases against the Common Market countries by early next month.

Airlift to Germany Has Military, Political Aims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The dramatic airlift of a full armored division to Germany next month may foreshadow eventual withdrawal of sizeable U.S. combat forces from Europe and perhaps the Far East.

There are no plans for any immediate retrenchment but Pentagon strategists are tending in that direction in their thinking some years ahead.

pullback would ease the balance of payments problem by reducing U. S. spending overseas.

The aims of the 18,000-man Army-Air Force exercise called "Big Lift"—the most ambitious long-range air movement of fighting men in history—are a mixture of the military and the political.

From the military standpoint, Big Lift is designed to test out the capability of this country's rapidly growing Military Air Transport fleet to rush large numbers of troops to overseas trouble-spots and get them into action within a few days.

The demonstration of this capability also would yield important political dividends in showing Allied nations that the United States need not keep large ground fighting formations stationed in Europe to carry out the U.S. commitment to defend the North Atlantic Treaty Organization area.

Further, it is felt the spectacle of 15,000 soldiers being flown across the Atlantic in hundreds of transports in only three days—and their readiness for battle soon afterward—will provide a telling lesson for the Russians and Red Chinese.

For all these reasons, U.S. authorities believe Big Lift is worth the $20 million it is expected to cost.

The United States now is gradually scaling down a 40,000-man buildup of chiefly rear area support troops sent overseas to round out the U.S. 7th Army during the Berlin crisis two years ago. More than 22,000 of these men have been brought back so far, reducing the U.S. Army in Europe to around 250,000 men.

Any sizable withdrawal of combat elements—the United States has the equivalent of six Army divisions deployed in Germany—would be a thing for the future.

Butler Meets

Fifty members and their families gathered for a recent meeting of Butler Grange. Lee Whinery, master, presided.

The members presented a sing-a-long program recently at the Columbiana County Home. Readings, piano solos and skits were given and a donation of fresh fruit was given to the residents.

A "family fun frolic" was held during the meeting featuring a "country store," toss games, balloon games and a popcorn stand by the Wood family.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Oliver Conser and Richard Mercer. A wiener roast was prepared by the social committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Mercer and Mrs. Leo Cooper.

Ellsworth Center Installs

Ellsworth Center Grange held a dinner meeting and installed 1964 officers in the grange hall with 60 members and visitors present.

The following officers were installed by the Mahoning County installing team: Leland Knauf, master; Ronald Truitt, overseer; Albert Conrad, assistant steward; A. D. White, steward; Elsie Jones, chaplain; Virginia Knauf, lecturer; Jean Manchester, secretary; Hugh Bowman, treasurer; Mildred Knauf, financial secretary; Donald Yeager, gatekeeper; Mary Conrad, lady assistant steward; Carol Conrad, Ceres Sandy LaRue, Pomona; Wanda Sternagle, Flora; Willard Knauf, executive committee Alice Sternagle, juvenile matron; and Ethel Bowman, pianist.

UNIVERSITY CONTRIBUTION

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Private contributions to Ohio University amounted to $1,410,470 in the past academic year, President Vernon R. Alden says.

Alden told students and staff Monday that, if Ohio voters approve the $250 million bond issue Nov. 5, the university will give priority to a new library, power plant and engineering-science center. A start also could be made on buildings for three branch campuses and graduate and music centers, Alden said.

OHIO
Edison COMPANY
AN INVESTOR-OWNED, TAX-PAYING ELECTRIC COMPANY

The Word Is 'Integrity'

It is by no means certain that would-be tax-cutters ever will understand why they now find themselves tangled in a party issue.

According to all the rules of the political game, a proposal to cut taxes should be accepted without a dissenting vote. Where did the dissent come from?

What causes many congressional Republicans to risk their political lives by refusing to plump for a tax cut without a spending cut?

The word that explains it is "integrity," which could be defined in this instance as a sense of honesty about handling public money.

THE THEORY that enterprise will be so stimulated by a tax cut that the government will collect as much or more revenue at the reduced tax rates may be sound.

But the feeling that it is morally unsound to cut tax rates when the federal government is spending more than it is collecting is more than a theory. It is an ingrained feeling.

It reflects the people's instinct about protecting the value of the dollar, not only at home but in foreign exchange.

It grows out of the training of generations of Americans taught to pull their own weight and pay their own way. It may be, as some glib experts have hinted, that the American people are naive, square and fuddy-duddy about high finance.

But it may as well be that some glib experts in high finance are a little shaky in their comprehension of integrity in handling public funds.

UNLESS public practice jibes with what passes for integrity in handling private money, the American people are going to feel uncomfortable.

They would feel uncomfortable if their best friend piddled away up to 20 per cent of his income when he owned more than he could ever hope to pay and was going into debt deeper every year.

They feel uncomfortable about a tax cut.

Will They Plant a Whirlwind

After farmers had voted out tight controls and high support prices for wheat last May, skeptics predicted they would plant wheat fence to fence this fall to make up their losses. For the first time since 1952 they could plant as much wheat as they liked.

The outcome of the wheat referendum was a stunning setback for the administration's program and also for the firmly held belief that farmers wouldn't shoot Santa Claus.

A recent spot check by Farm Journal magazine now suggests that the skeptics may have been wrong about that fence-to-fence planting. Most growers of winter wheat seem to be planning to stay within their present allotments.

By doing this they can get a 30 per cent support price of $1.25 a bushel. Even if they go over, that half-billion-dollar wheat deal between Canada and the Soviet Union has taken pressure off the more than one billion bushels of surplus wheat now deteriorating in the United States, with another billion-bushel-plus crop harvested this year.

The wheat problem is a showdown on philosophy as well as crop management. Those with enough confidence in farmers to believe they will avoid planting a whirlwind they would reap next harvest time are in a minority after so many years of a managed wheat crop.

But those who were sure wheat farmers would make such a muddle of free enterprise they would have to yell for the Agriculture Department to rescue them are not as sure as they were last May. They may have underestimated the wheat growers.

Growing Churches

Two more district churches have made notable membership gains and spiritual growth which have necessitated building expansion programs.

Our congratulations and best wishes for continued progress go to the Leetonia Menonite Church which dedicated its remodeled sanctuary Sunday, and to the Greenford Christian Church which broke ground the same day for an educational annex to its building.

Both churches have been serving the spiritual needs of their respective communities for many years and naturally are dear to the hearts of many families and individuals.

in earnest, the best ones having taken one applicant in four and the poorest ones still beating the bushes for more, except tax-supported schools, which turn applicants away only when they run out of room.

The New York Times printed the text of a speech by Charles Morgan Jr. to the Young Businessmen's Club of Birmingham after the dynamite bomb killed the four young Negro girls in church. After pinning the guilt on everybody who lives there, the speaker concluded "Birmingham is not a dying city. It is dead."

Cleveland's urban renewal program is getting down to the basic issue: Whether one group of citizens has a right in the name of urban renewal and using the power of eminent domain to ride roughshod over the rights of other citizens striving to save their property.

Herman Wouk, the author, has described the Ten Days of Repentance from Rosh Hashonah to the Day of Atonement on Sept. 28 as a "hypnotic observance which still binds Jews to their identity when all other links have rusted through or snapped."

The man at the hardware store and I agreed that caulking guns are better than they used to be, because caulking compound now comes in "cartridges." But in the same conversation we agreed that morality and decency are going downhill at a staggering clip in the South.

One of the hardest things to realize, even for the smartest people is that every law in the United States must apply to every citizen or be out of harmony with the concept of a people's government.

An obvious place to start cleaning up the mess in the South is to make the display of Confederate flags an act of treason, which is the spirit in which Confederate flags are being displayed.

All autos are going to look alike next year, which makes you wonder if functional conformity finally will crowd out all cars that look different, the way functional conformity in architecture reduced building to the same level of monotony.

After reading "The Road to Huddersfield," which tells how everything these days is being industrialized — by the World Bank, if necessary—I made a mental note to reread "Walden Pond," because I have doubts about industrialism's long-term benefits. Does it bring happiness to humans.

I do not know why Aberdeen's Fischer quintuplets fail to excite me like Callander's Dionnes, but that's how it is. All I can do is hope the Fischers get a lot of money from well-wishers because of their rare five-for-one accident of human reproduction.

Kennedy's Speech Before United Nations Lauded

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A very good speech was delivered the other day by President Kennedy before the United Nations General Assembly. There may be some disagreement about the practicality of his proposal for a joint effort with the Soviet Union to go to the moon — in fact, many people probably wish there proposal to call off the stunt altogether so the same billions could be used to help poverty-stricken peoples. But, in the main, Mr. Kennedy constructed an address full of implicit meanings that will be hailed in the field of diplomacy as an encouraging attitude.

David Lawrence probably wish there

It was important, for instance, to give the cause of the United Nations a stimulus so as to persuade many member governments to pay their share of the expenses for current programs. So, too, was the emphasis on the successful negotiation of the treaty limiting nuclear tests.

There was also a brief but significant reminder, to the rest of the world that "the United States since the close of the war has sent over $100 billion worth of assistance to nations seeking economic viability."

There was a subtle suggestion, moreover, that more help should be forthcoming from these countries which now can afford it and which must in turn recognize "their responsibility to less-developed nations."

While the President endeavored to interpret the signing of the treaty limiting nuclear tests as possibly reducing world tension, he rightly stressed nevertheless the need for "safeguards against surprise attack" and the possibility of "war by accident or miscalculation."

Perhaps the most difficult and perplexing topic with which the President had to deal in his address was the continuance of the "cold war."

HE SPOKE hopefully of the recent nuclear test negotiations as having brought a "pause in the cold war." He suggested that the responsibilities of the Soviet Union and the United States in seeking peace "require our two countries to concentrate less on our differences and more on the means of resolving them peacefully."

Let this be construed as any indifference to the basic issues. Mr. Kennedy said that "no service is performed by failing to make clear our disagreements." He pointedly added that "a central difference is the belief of the American people in self-determination for all peoples."

It was here that the President reiterated this government's belief that "the people of Germany and Berlin must be free to reunite their capital and their country."

He declared, also, that Cuba "must be free" and that "in all the world — in Eastern Europe, as well as Western, in Southern Africa as well as Northern, in old nations as well as new — people must be free to choose their own future, without discrimination or dictation, and without coercion or subversion."

The President appeared to be conscious of the activities in the U.N. of the organized bloc of Afro-Asian nations. While he condemned "all forms of human oppression" and expressed his disapproval of "apartheid," he made for the first time a comment that shows signs of understanding the problems of whites in South Africa.

He said that "we do not advocate the rights of black Africans in order to drive out white Africans." He made his plea on the basis of "the right of all men to equal protection and opportunity."

of the Soviet people. Mr. Kennedy mentioned in one sentence a very vital point, but it needs elaboration and reiteration. He said:

"We must continue to seek agreement on a freer flow of information and people from East to West and West to East."

The very same speech of the President, for instance, was censored in the Soviet press so the Russian people couldn't read all of it. Other means of communication through such private agencies as Radio Free Europe become more and more necessary now in making contacts not only inside Russia but inside the countries of all the captive nations in Eastern Europe. Mr. Kennedy touched abstractly on the basic issue when he said:

"For we believe that truth is stronger than error, and that freedom is more enduring than coercion. And in the contest for a better life, all the world can be the winner."

ALL THE DIPLOMATIC phrases, restrained expressions and implicit avowals of some basic principles in international intercourse cannot erase from the worried minds of peoples everywhere the fear of a big war emerging some day from such critical situations as currently make headlines in the newspapers as they tell of the dangers in Viet Nam and in Cuba.

The U. S. secretary of defense and the chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff are this week in Viet Nam — many thousands of miles away from this country as American military forces seek to align themselves against Communist intrigue and subversion and guerrilla warfare.

All this is proof that some day realism must be articulated so that the Russian people can hear it. For unless the concept of world domination by infiltrating weak governments everywhere is repudiated by the people behind the iron curtain, the "cold war" cannot but lead to the nuclear war that nobody wants.

When Lem Boulware, retired vice president of General Electric, comes back he will be the heavy artillery in the National Association of Manufacturers' counter offensive on the labor-management front.

This counter offensive, which will include political action, was discussed at a three-day session of the N.A.M. board of directors at Hot Springs, Va., last week. At conferences at the "Home-stead" there, the leaders of some 16,000 "small businessmen" put the finishing touches on plans for series of executive conferences on industrial relations.

THESE DISCUSSIONS will be held in three cities — New York, Cincinnati and Chicago — on three successive days at the end of October. Boulware will fly to each city to climax each session.

Before further discussing Boulware, it's important to paint the background against which he will speak.

This series of executive discussions was announced by the N.A.M.'s new permanent president W. P. Gullander — "Gully" to his friends. He has been revitalizing the organization which has been under constant attack by labor leaders for years.

The conference theme is not exactly couched in appeasing terms. It is a call to action and the unions soon will realize it. That theme is "Union Power and the Public Interest."

Gullander hit hard when he announced the subject in these words: "The fact that a union—or a group of unions — possesses the power to stop the flow of the country's transportation arteries increasingly imperils the nation's well-being."

So long as unrestrained union power exists, the use of it's possible — and when so used it's a threat to the public interest."

pressure among national labor leaders. But the selection of the articulate Lem Boulware as a triple keynote speaker is certain to trigger a cold war or hot wars.

Four years Boulware has been the symbol of a hard stand against union demands. This philosophy the labor chiefs termed "Boulwarism." Virtually every time during the '50s management took a firm stand, it was charged with "Boulwarism."

Leading the outcry against Boulware was Jim Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers, a close friend and ally of Walter Reuther.

Labor leaders assailed Boulware for developing what they called a "take it or leave it" attitude during the bargaining for new union contracts. He made a wage offer and then would not move, they said. They asserted that "Boulwarism" was unfair bargaining.

Boulware, a hearty fellow, chuckled at this mass attack. His position was — and is — that a firm should do its research carefully.

Businessmen should estimate how much they can give in wages, higher pensions, better welfare and improved working conditions — and still make a reasonable profit. They should define what management rights are. Then they should make an offer and stick with it — not start at the bottom and move up.

ONE INDUSTRIALIST described Boulware's policy as "How to succeed in bargaining without really lying."

Boulware was not against unionism. In fact, he has constantly urged the rank and file to turn out at local meetings and vote on all the issues.

Some years ago he retired from the GE vice presidency. Since then he has spoken throughout the last for a dynamic conservatism. Politically, it is safe to assume he is a hard-driving champion of Sen. Barry Goldwater. All of which becomes doubly significant because the N.A.M. now is urging all businessmen to plunge into politics — bipartisan politics through the new Business-Industry Political Action Committee (BIPAC).

One thing is certain. With Lem Boulware hitting the hustings, the great debate is on loud and clear.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl almost 17 who has an unusual problem.

I have boy friends galore. I could have two dates every single night in the week if I wanted them. And I'm not what you would call beautiful, either. I just seem to attract fellows. It's been this way since I was 13.

My problem is I don't have one girl friend to my name. Girls just don't like me. Ann, I feel badly about this, although I try not to show it. But I would gladly give 20 boy friends if I could have just one girl friend who actually liked me.

Can you help me? I don't recall ever having seen this problem in your column before. Thank you. — HALF LONELY.

Dear Lonely: The best way to get friendship is to give it. You probably have shied away from girls and behaved indifferently toward them because you assumed they didn't like you. And quite naturally, these girls react to your coolness.

When you are next in a group with both boys and girls make a special effort to pay attention to the girls instead of the boys. Warmth begets warmth — as you will see.

Picture That

Dear Ann: I wrote you in May about an unfaithful husband. I took your advice and things seem to be a great deal better. Now I have another problem.

I recently learned that the two paintings hanging in our living room were done by this other woman and not a gift from a business associate as my husband told me when he brought them home.

I've always liked the paintings and they have hung in our home for almost four years. Now that I know who did the paintings I get sick at my stomach whenever I look at them.

Last night I told my husband how I felt and he said I was being childish — that he likes the pictures and that should let them hang. He swears the affair is over between him and this woman — (and have every reason to believe him) and that therefore removing the pictures would be silly.

May we hear from you on this?

—BUTTERFLIES IN MY BRAIN
Dear Brain: People often move art when they redecorate. Doesn't your living room need new wallpaper or paint? Aren't you tired of the furniture in the same place for four years?

Perhaps it's time to move things around a little. Those paintings might look better in the hall for a few weeks — and then in the attic.

Amorous Uncle

Dear Ann: I need an older person to tell me what to do and it can't be anyone who knows me, so you are elected.

I'm a 14-year-old girl who is far from beautiful but I have lots of friends. Three weeks ago my mother's stepbrother, Joe, moved to this city to go to work for my dad. This stepuncle is about 33 years old. He was married seven years ago but is divorced now.

Uncle Joe is staying in our house and I wish he would get out and find a place of his own. He is always pawing me and pulling me on his lap. Whenever he sits next to me he tries to hold my hand. Last night he tried to talk to me about some very personal things which are none of his business.

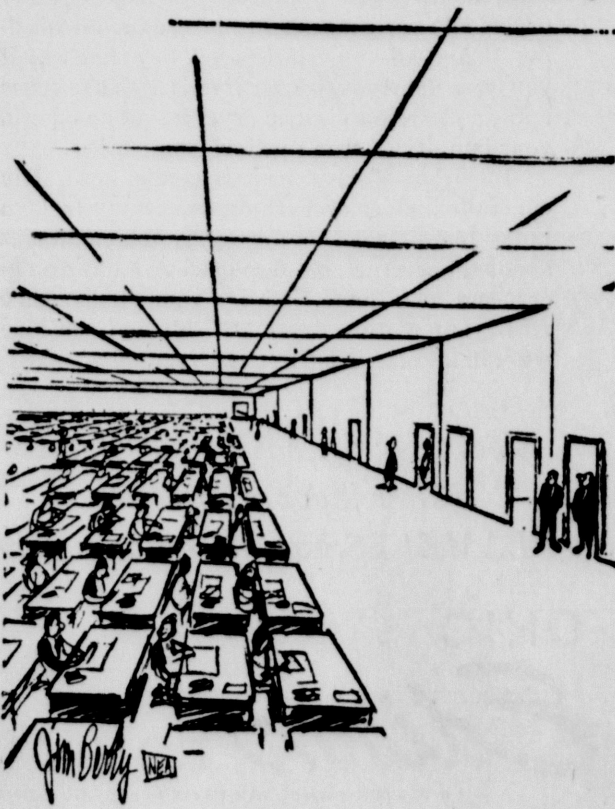

I told my Mom this morning that Uncle Joe is fresh and she said the trouble with teen-age girls today is they all think they are Elizabeth Taylor and that every man is after them.

I am NOT imagining things. Please help me. — DOLLY.

Dear Doll: In time your Uncle Joe will do or say something which is unmistakably out of line. When he does, go to your father — not your mother — and give him chapter and verse. In the meantime stay plenty alert and do not remain in the house with him unless another adult is present.

SHOW WON'T GO ON

In his floating art show, six paintings of Lorjou's have the Seine for backdrop.

President Charles de Gaulle? Police supervise business at closing night.

The technical charge was "improper mooring."

PARIS' "oldest reliable permanent floating art show" has ended its run. Reversing the saying about life being short and art long, the police of Paris proved that art is short and the arm of the law is long. The authorities took in the proprietor, painter Bernard Lorjou, whose novel way of displaying his work was to hire a Seine cargo barge, moor it to a quay near the center of the city and hold a floating art show. Lorjou sat back and waited for the critics, but the police arrived first. They were harder than any art critic and closed the show. It seems the exhibit included a somewhat less than flattering portrait of President Charles de Gaulle and non-reverent painting of the late Pope John XXIII.

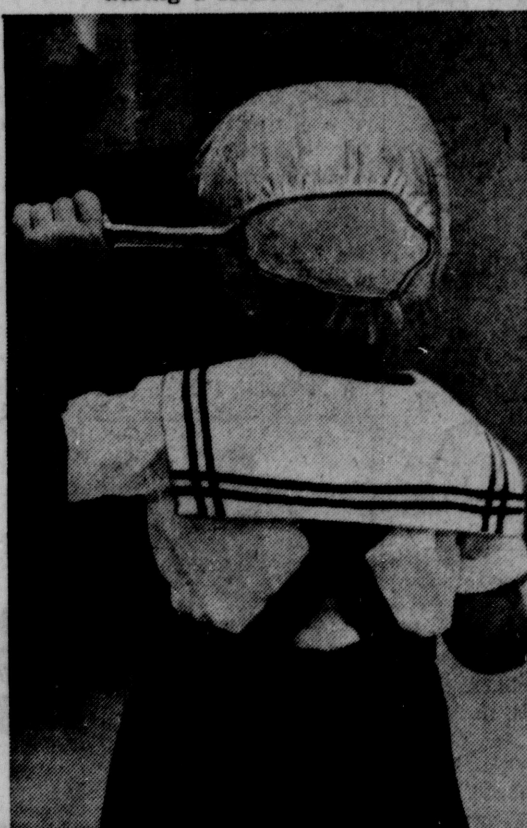

CORN AND CHAMPAGNE—Corn Palace in Mitchell, S.D., used several thousand cobs of corn to create image of bandleader Lawrence Welk for an engagement.

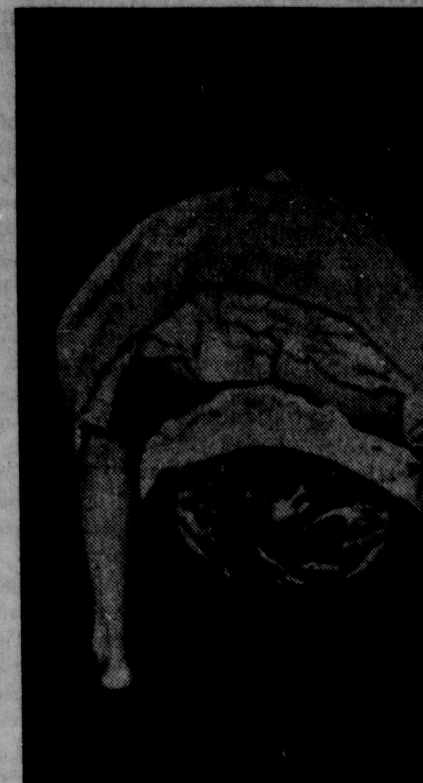

SEA-GOING HITCHHIKER—Statuesque Ginny Fletcher of Bellerose, N.Y., alters the buoy-meets-girl routine as she waits for her cartoonist-husband Frank, to pick her up in Peconic Bay. He draws the "Bringing Up Father" strip.

CARVING A CAREER—Thayne Robertson of Boise, Id., looks over 1,500-pound statue of Dakota Indian Chief WiHaHa that he carved for Crippled Children's Society in Cleveland, O.

DOLL DOLLS UP—Two-year-old Christi Roberts of Dallas, Tex., imitates Mom by getting at those hard-to-see curls with a brush. The cameraman causes her to blush behind the brush. Finally, he went away.

DOWN HER ALLEY—OOPS!—Now, if Don Carter and some of those other bowlers will just pay close attention, five-and-a-half-year old Tammy Johnson of Las Vegas, Nev., will show them how this bowling business should be handled.

Donna Kelly Is Bride Of Charles A. Mohr, Jr.

Palms banked the altar for the wedding Saturday uniting in marriage Miss Donna Marie Kelly, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn M. Kelly of 403 W. State St., and Charles Arthur Mohr Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mohr of 426 S. Union Ave., at 2:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Friends Church.

Rev. Harold B. Winn officiated at the double ring ceremony and by her mother.

For her wedding the bride wore a sheath street-length dress of turquoise blue nylon chiffon fashioned with a cowl neckline. To complement her dress she wore a small white veiled hat and corsage of white gladiolus and carnations.

Mrs. Ralph Mohr was matron of honor in a blue-pink nylon jacketed street length dress, and also wore a white veiled hat and gladiolus and carnation corsage.

Ralph Mohr served his brother as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kelly chose a dress of baby-blue nylon with embroidered bodice.

Mrs. Mohr's gown was of brown brocade taffeta. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow mums and sweetheart roses. Miss Mary Lou DeWan registered the 100 guests who attended the reception at Butler Grange hall following the ceremony.

A miniature bride and bridegroom topped the three-tiered wedding cake decorated with sugar bells. White tapers in crystal branching candelabra lighted the brides table. Mrs. Ralph Mohr, JoAnn Mohr, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Margaret Hobe served.

A 5 o'clock buffet supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mohr Sr. for 50 guests. Autumn flowers decorated the home throughout and the table was centered with an arrangement of white mums and lighted with white candles.

The bride is a graduate of Rowl High School at Conneaut.

A graduate of Salem High School the bridegroom was recently discharged from the army following 21 months service in Germany.

Following a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, for which the bride wore a blue three piece suit, the couple will reside at 426 S. Union Ave.

The Doctor Says

Mother-To-Be Aid In Fight on Birth Defects

When you go through nine months of impatient waiting, you want to be sure your baby will be perfectly formed in every respect. Birth defects used to occur in as many as 25 per cent of the babies in some areas. Now the proportion in this country is about 2 or 3 per cent.

Accurate figures are hard to get because many of the defects discovered are of little consequence and so are ignored. Others, although present at birth, do not become manifest until months or years later.

MEDICAL SCIENTISTS are now convinced that the proportion of birth defects can be further reduced; but first we must find the causes. Several have already been found, and each cause that is discovered gives us the clue to prevention.

The age of the mother appears to be one factor. Although most babies born to mothers who are under 20 or over 40 are normal, the percentage of birth defects in these age groups is significantly higher than in mothers whose age falls between these extremes.

Babies born to unwed mothers also show a higher rate of defects than those born to couples who are married. These factors (age and legitimacy) are probably not directly responsible for the defects seen, but are most likely linked with economic, emotional or nutritional factors.

WE HAVE KNOWN for several years that about 17 per cent of women who contract German measles in the first three months of pregnancy will give birth to deformed babies. No such definite relation between deformity and other viral diseases has yet been proved, but the subject is being carefully studied. More recently, the drug thalidomide was found to be an even greater hazard.

Various other drugs, notably quinine, some of the sulfas, vitamin K, the anticoagulants, iodides, cortisone and other hormones are known to cause defects of one kind or another. Radiation in the first three months of pregnancy can also cause deformity, and Rh incompatibility can cause a serious blood defect in the newborn.

AS A RESULT OF THESE findings it has been possible to formulate some rules for prospective mothers.

Before marriage, take the protective immunizations for all the common infectious diseases for which such shots are available.

Keep yourself physically fit. Place yourself under the care of a doctor as soon as you find out you are pregnant, and follow his instructions.

He will try to prevent your having a premature baby. Cooperate with him.

Do not take any drugs during pregnancy unless prescribed by your doctor. Don't demand that he give you drugs for very little discomfort.

Be sure your physician and your dentist know you are pregnant when they order X rays for you.

Avoid having a general anesthetic if you are pregnant and need an operation. Have your own and your husband's Rh blood group checked.

North Georgetown Admits Killing Wife He Thought Was Unfaithful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a 72-year-old carpenter admits he killed his wife and entombed her in a wall in the belief—apparently erroneous — "she was running around with other men."

Mild-mannered Joseph Lewis was arrested Saturday in a service station by an off-duty police detective who recognized Lewis's car from broadcast descriptions.

A murder warrant was issued against Lewis after police, suspicious of a freshly plastered bedroom wall in the couple's home, opened it Sept. 12 and found the decomposed body of his wife, Anna, 70.

After his arrest, Lewis was taken to the police station and told: "Anna was found."

"Yeah? Who with?" detectives he replied.

After more questioning, Sgt. Ted Combs said, Lewis related: "I hit her during an argument two days after she came back from Chicago."

"She threatened to have me arrested and I hit her again. When she began to yell I tried to quiet her, but she slumped to the ground. She wasn't breathing."

He expressed doubt that police had found his wife of 42 years. "After all, I'm a carpenter. With a job like I did, I didn't think you'd ever find her body."

Combs said Lewis indicated no remorse over his wife's death.

The victim returned Aug. 13 from visits to a daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Stitts, in Dayton, Ohio, an a brother, Charles Biba, in Chicago. Biba said she was notified in Chicago that Lewis had started divorce proceedings.

Some important information for every man who will need a new truck within the next 12 months

New Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time. Here are some of the things that have been done to give you more value for practically the same investment.

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. You get a much better ride in every size Chevrolet truck today than you used to.

Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable pitch coils in the rear. Variable pitch coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. This variable-rate leaf-type suspension automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet has been building truck engines since 1918 but never has it been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—four, six, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. Formerly used on heavier trucks only, this type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain, to stand up under stress. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

There are also the Corvair 95 vans with the air-cooled engine in the rear. And the Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature. These trucks have more power this year.

In the medium- and heavy-duty area there are stakes, tilt cabs, low-cab-forward models and cab-and-chassis units to suit almost any requirement—including school bus bodies of up to 66-passenger capacity.

Dump truck operators now can order a Chevrolet tandem with either gasoline or diesel power.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet Dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Soviet Citizens Urged To Eat Less Bread

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet citizens, who doubtless eat more bread than any other single food, are being told at private meetings and in the press to ease an acute shortage by getting along with less.

Local leaders are being warned that bread must be saved and that prices may be raised.

Despite these warnings there appears no great probability that any Soviet citizen will go seriously short of bread.

Emergency wheat purchases abroad, running about 7 million tons, will offset crop losses during the past year due to drought and persistent mismanagement of planting and harvesting. The loss apparently is about 10 per cent of the crop, which last year was 65 million tons.

The shortage and the bad harvesting have sent Premier Khrushchev, now in his 70th year, storming about the country denouncing careless farming methods.

Again one of his pet projects, the virgin lands in Siberia and Southwest Asia, has let him down as it did in other recent years. Harvesting in the Kazakhstan virgin land area is so far behind schedule that it seems inevitable much grain will rot in the fields and some will be buried under the snow.

While Ivan and Natasha may not go short of bread, the shortage of wheat and corn seems certain to make them short of meat again this year.

This correspondent has just returned from a tour of Kuban, the Soviet Union's best farm area. A bumper crop of wheat was harvested there before the drought set in during July and August. The drought hurt the corn badly as well as vegetables and fruit. Villages and towns in the area are short of vegetables. This is reflected also in Moscow and other cities. In the capital queues form every time a shop displays any fresh vegetables.

Grain was lost in the virgin lands last year because thousands of combines and tractors lay idle in the field for lack of spare parts. As early as Aug. 28, the paper Farm Life reported that some farms had not finished the repair of harvesting machines and combines before the beginning of this year's harvest.

In some areas only 20 per cent of the machinery was used. In the Irkutsk area of eastern Siberia, the paper said, "Peas started to fall out of the pods while drivers were still testing their machines."

A half billion dollars is to be paid to Canada in the next 18 months for delivery of 5.3 million tons of wheat and 500,000 tons of flour. Another 1.5 million tons of wheat has been ordered from Australia, with a like amount on option.

Much of this will be shipped immediately to the Soviet Union's foreign customers, to protect her position as a supplier.

Flour cannot be bought at many stores, apparently because it can be hoarded while bread cannot.

Many farmers buy bread to feed to cows and pigs they are allowed to raise privately for market. One couple was pilloried in the press Sunday for having bought nearly half a ton of flour, bread, rice and macaroni.

Two Pass State Surveyor Exams

LISBON — Two employees of the Columbiana County engineer's office passed state surveyor examinations July 12-13 in Columbiana and are now surveyors - in training.

They are Virginia Arbutnot, 23, of East Liverpool RD 1, and Tony Zapata, 23, of Lisbon RD 3.

Miss Arbutnot, who, according to the latest state surveyors directory is the only surveyor-in-training of her sex in Ohio, is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

She attends Youngstown University where she is a junior in the civil engineering school.

Zapata is a graduate of Lisbon High School and attended Ohio State University in 1957-58. He then transferred to Youngstown University Civil Engineering School where he is a junior. He married the former Susan Neill and began working for the county engineer's office in 1959.

Both must work three years as surveyors-in-training before receiving full registration.

McNamara, Taylor In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON (AP)—President Kennedy's two top military advisers arrive today in South Viet Nam to see if the Diem regime's conflict with Buddhists and students is hampering the U.S.-backed war on Communist guerrillas.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were expected to see President Ngo Dinh Diem shortly after their arrival.

McNamara and Taylor also will get out into the field, where U.S. military advisers report the Viet Cong guerrillas are growing bolder and increasing their resistance, particularly in the Mekong River delta south of Saigon.

On the eve of their arrival, the official Viet Nam press reported a series of guerrilla attacks on government strategic hamlets and outposts in the delta, a jungle cut by streams that is regarded as the most important front in the war against the Viet Cong.

Before leaving Washington, McNamara told reporters the war had been going well until very recently. He said he and Taylor were going to Saigon primarily to see whether the military operation "has been adversely affected by the unrest of the past several weeks."

This was a reference to the Diem regime's crackdown on Buddhist and student demonstrators who accused the government of religious persecution. The government denied persecuting the Buddhists and charged the religious movement had been infiltrated by Communists.

There also have been reports that U.S. officials in Saigon do not agree on the best policy to be pursued in the situation.

Budget Breakdown

The new budget breakdown follows:

Revenue: 1963 balance, $3,546.13 tuition (70 students x $375 per year), $26,250 reimbursement, coordinator, $4,222.23; reimbursement, teachers $29,253; reimbursement equipment, $2,211.86.

Expenditures: Teachers' salaries, $43,880; salary, coordinator, $6,333.34; salary, secretary, $2,750; additional instructional services $400; books, $4,200 telephone, $800; equipment, $1,000; advertising, $700; interest, $300; local travel Holland Cameron, $300; department travel, $300; maintenance, mechanical, $400; contingency, $3,619.88.

Salaries made up about two-thirds of the total expenses of operating the school.

Holland Cameron SST supervisor, reported the increase in staff makes it possible to take on four additional mechanical engineering technology students and three more electrical engineering students. Anyone wanting to take advantage of this expanded enrollment potential should call the Office of Adult Education by Sept. 27, he said.

Doctors-Dentists Measure Signed By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed "with great satisfaction" today the $236.4 million bill to help build new medical and dental schools and to help students attend such institutions.

The three-year measure is the first new Kennedy program to clear the 88th Congress. Similar legislation has been under consideration at the Capitol since 1950.

The President asked for the bill in his health message to help avert what he said could be a "particularly serious shortage" of doctors and dentists in the next decade.

He estimated that even to continue present ratios of service would require a 50 per cent increase in dental graduates in the next 10 years.

The bill would help an estimated 10,000 students with loans of up to $2,000 over the next three years and also make it possible to build several new medical and dental schools, and to expand and modernize some existing ones. Special consideration would be given to areas where training facilities now are lacking or inadequate.

Kennedy said he was delighted to sign what he termed "one of the most significant health measures passed by the Congress in recent years."

U.S.-Russia A.. Route OK Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A New York-Moscow commercial air route is one of three items on which Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko may be able to reach quick agreement in talks this week.

Official U.S. sources also foresee possible agreements on building new embassies in Moscow and Washington, and allowing the U.S. Embassy in Moscow to have a private communications link with a U.S. post in Western Europe to speed its dispatches.

Bigger East-West questions which Rusk, Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home are to explore this week are expected to take much more time.

These include such follow-ups to the limited nuclear test ban as exchanging observers to guard against surprise attack and an East-West nonaggression pact. U.S. sources aid further consultations among the Western Allies are required before they can agree on the position to take toward such proposals.

In August 1961, U.S. negotiators initiated an agreement for a direct U.S.-Soviet air link but refused to sign it because of Soviet pressure then on West Berlin.

A spokesman for Pan American Airways, the U.S. airline slated to fly the Moscow route if the deal goes through, said today, "We are still ready and willing to fly."

Rusk scheduled another day of talks with foreign leaders attending the fall session of the U.N. General Assembly. He had an important morning appointment with Indonesia's Foreign Minister Subandono toward new-born Malaysia and the sacking of the British Embassy in Jakarta, Washington is reviewing its Indonesian aid program.

Kensington Man Injured In Crash

Oscar Pitts, 23, of Kensington was taken to Alliance City Hospital with multiple injuries received when his car plunged into a creek today at 1:30 a.m. on Route 30, about three miles west of Route 9.

He suffered lacerations of the scalp, left elbow and left thigh, contusions of both knees and a possible chest injury, and is reported in fair condition.

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol said Pitts was driving east when his car went off the south side of Route 30, struck a utility pole and overturned in a creek.

Wilford Boley, 43, of East Liverpool suffered bruised ribs after a collision Monday at 4:15 p.m. on County Road 430, about two miles west of the Pennsylvania state line.

The patrol said Anthony Edgerton, 32, of RD 2, Columbiana made a left turn in front of Boley's car. Edgerton was cited for making an improper turn.

With Patients

Cleveland St., pastor of the First Nazarene Church, is in fair condition in North Side Hospital at Youngstown.

David Englert, 12, son of Edward Englert of RD 4, Lisbon, is in fair condition in Salem City Hospital where he was admitted at 2:25 p.m. Monday for treatment of a possible fracture of the right ankle received while playing football at United Local School.

Mrs. Harry McBride of Columbiana, who fractured her left ankle in a fall down the cellar steps at her home, is in fairly good condition in Salem City Hospital where she was admitted at 10:30 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Esther Odoran of N. Lincoln Ave. has entered Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, Md., for surgery.

Commissioners To Share Cost Lisbon Council Approves Removal of Trees In Square

LISBON — Village Council Monday night agreed to have a tree-trimming company remove two dead trees from the square, and trim and feed the others.

Councilman Fred Steele reported he had contacted the county commissioners who agreed to pay the amount of the lowest bid. The square is county property.

The lowest bid of $575 was submitted by the Jackson Tree Service of Wellsville. Other bids were: Davey Tree, Kent, $888; John Holmoe, Lisbon, $1,030.50 and Suburban Tree Trimming, Hubbard, $1,087.80.

Two letters were read thanking the village for allowing free parking around the First Presbyterian Church for the Mahoning Presbytery Men's meeting Sept. 10. One came from the local church and the other from the secretary of the Mahoning Presbytery.

Council's next meeting will be Sept. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Treaty

pled and unequivocal assurances" U.S. security would be protected under the treaty.

He gave assurances that the United States will meet the military's four points by continuing and aggressive program of underground testing, maintaining a healthy laboratory weapons development program, keeping up a readiness to resume atmospheric testing if the Russians cheat, and expanding and improving its facilities for detecting such cheating as well as checking on Sino-Soviet atomic progress.

The treaty came to an end of a long road Monday when proponents beat back a series of attempts to alter the resolution of ratification.

The senators refused, by a 61-33 vote, to attach to the pact an "understanding" that it does not inhibit the United States from using nuclear weapons to defend itself or its allies.

Another proposal, by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to make ratification subject to the reservation that the Soviets first remove their weapons and troops from Cuba was rejected 75 to 17.

With all other action completed, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen believed they had enough votes to insure ratification.

The last unofficial survey indicated only 18 senators opposed and two, Sens. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., and Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, officially uncommitted.

In its final action Monday, the Senate adopted a preamble to the resolution requiring Senate ratification of any amendments to the treaty.

Adapted By 79-9 Vote

This proposal, offered by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and an opponent of ratification, was accepted by the bipartisan leadership and adopted by a vote of 79 to 9. A move to kill it by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., lost by a 79-9 vote.

In accepting the Russell proposal, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate it would not alter the resolution itself and would not have to be sent to the other 99 nations that have signed the treaty.

Fears were expressed that the treaty was ambiguous on whether it would inhibit use of nuclear weapons in an armed conflict. However a reservation to define the right to use nuclear weapons was rejected after proponents insisted that President Kennedy had given iron-clad assurances that nothing in the pact imposed limitations on use of weapons in defense of the United States or its allies.

In the long debate, supporters voiced hope that the treaty may be the first step on a long journey toward an ending of the cold war and an end to the perils of radioactive fallout.

Opponents, and a good many supporters, too, aired fears that the ban on atmospheric testing would cause the United States to lose nuclear superiority.

Roy Brammer of Salineville salesman for a grader firm, offered to sell the village a used 1954 grader for $895. He said it needed about $100 worth of repairs to put it in good shape. Mayor Stockman turned the matter over to the street committee.

The street committee reported parking was free around the high school building and Council couldn't regulate who parked there. Superintendent Oliver Payne had contacted the mayor, requesting that parking be restricted to high school teachers.

Two letters were read thanking the village for allowing free parking around the First Presbyterian Church for the Mahoning Presbytery Men's meeting Sept. 10. One came from the local church and the other from the secretary of the Mahoning Presbytery.

Kennedy

audiences account for virtually all the stops on Kennedy's five-day schedule.

Saluting Pinchot, who founded the U. S. Forest Service with the backing of Republican President Theodore Roosevelt, Kennedy said "In the space of a few short years, he made conservation an accepted virtue in the nation's conscience."

Pointing to a series of actions and proposals by his administration, Kennedy said he began in 1961 "to increase the pace of resource development and conservation in a variety of ways."

He concluded that "if we can continue and expand the programs we have begun," it will be possible to write "a record of saving and using this nation's supply of natural resources to assure a fuller, richer life for all Americans now and for generations to come."

Kennedy was to fly to Ashland, Wis., for another conservation speech before addressing an Agriculture Department "land and people conference" in Duluth, Minn., tonight.

Kennedy later will make speaking appearances in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada before going to Palm Springs, Calif., for a weekend rest.

Hasty Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

If your wife worries about her complexion, tell her a long walk in the rain will improve it more than a trip to a beauty parlor. Irish girls are noted for their lively complexions. But they are brought out by the rain mists of their native land, not by any magic lotions or expensive creams.

The reason many men remain bachelors is that they can't find a woman who can sew on buttons as well as they can.

The best practical psychologist I knew was an elderly panhandler who said, as he held out his hand, "Gee, you've got a beauti-

As soon as he is promoted to detective, a patrolman starts wearing tight shoes — so no one will think he's a flatfoot. That's why plainclothesmen have more trouble with their feet than a cop on the beat.

Salem Matches Identical Record At Farrell Friday

Both Schools Won Openers Night Riders Boast Senior Forward Wall

When Salem travels to Farrell, Pa., Friday for its annual clash with the Night Riders, the locals will be battling an opponent with a couple of things in common.

Both schools posted victories in their season openers, then dropped the next two, and neither has displayed exceptionally powerful offenses.

Following an 8-0 victory over Campbell Memorial, Coach Tony Paulekas' Farrell aggregation was dumped by Aliquippa 19-0 and Butler 20-6 in Mid-Western Conference clashes.

After a rousing 18-14 win to start the campaign, the Salem Quakers slipped to a 16-14 loss to Ravenna and were outclassed by a strong Lorain unit last Friday 20-6.

COACH DON CLARICO, satisfied with Salem's performance against the Steelmen, plans no radical changes for the oncoming game with the Night Riders.

The scores of the last two Farrell games may be a little deceiving because breaks set up most of the Aliquippa and Butler TDs that meant victory in each case.

Four players will alternate at the left halfback for Farrell, with Richard Cannone, 155-lb. junior, and Steve Gurrera, 162-lb. junior, having an inside track for the starting assignment.

At the right tackle slot, the Night Riders have plenty of beef in Frank O'Staff, a 240-lb. senior.

JOHN GIROSKI, 170-lb. senior is the signal caller. He is a clever ball handler and a good leader. Against Aliquippa, he threw 17 passes but completed only one.

On the forward wall are seven seniors and most of them saw action in the thrilling 18-13 loss to the Red and Black last season.

The backfield, lacking in experience, includes Joe Leavens, an end last year converted to fullback, 170-lb. senior; and Leander Flint, 150-lb. sophomore at right halfback.

Aside from the first unit, Farrell doesn't have any depth that Coach Paulekas can call on outside of two or three players.

The Night Riders run their offensive patterns out of a split T formation and defensively throw up 6-2-1 unit.

AFTER OBSERVING movies of the Lorain game, Coach Clarico and his staff named this week's outstanding linemen and backs. Mike DeRienzo was selected the best offensive back and a similar award went to Ron Evans on the line.

Art Spack was chosen the top back defensively, while Tom Hutson was picked for his work on the line. All four boys are now members of the "110 Per Cent Club."

Tickets for the game are on sale at Fisher's News Agency and Heddleston's Pharmacy and a total of 185 reserved seats are available.

Grade school, junior high and high school students can buy their tickets at Senior High School. If enough parents, fans and students sign up, a bus will be chartered for the game. Anyone interested should contact Fred Cope, athletic director at the Senior High School.

Cards Battle Cubs In Afternoon Contest

Dodgers Can Wrap Up Flag With Win Over New York

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For the Los Angeles Dodgers the long, hot summer seems over. The champagne is cold. The magic number is one.

One win by the Dodgers—which could happen tonight at the New York Mets' expense—or one loss by the St. Louis Cardinals—at the enrichment of the Chicago Cubs—was all that the Dodgers needed for the National League pennant.

A Los Angeles radio station announced plans to broadcast progress of this afternoon's Cards-Cubs game every half inning, and the listeners are sure to include a bunch of guys who would like to drive to the Dodger Stadium as champions.

"I don't care how we win it, or by what device," said Don Drysdale, the big, side-arming pitcher who is pitching tonight against the Mets.

"They can't say we backed into it, no matter what happens," said Drysdale. "We won five of six to get where we are, and three of those wins were head and had against the Cards."

The champagne is on ice in the Stadium Club at Dodger Stadium, and it's mighty cold. Some say it has been there since last year about this time, when an end-of-season plunge brought disaster to Dodger pennant hopes in a play-off loss to San Francisco.

On July 2 it was Drysdale who defeated Curt Simmons and the Cardinals, 1-0, in the same stadium, to put the Dodgers ahead. They've been there ever since.

He opposes Tracy Stallard tonight. Drysdale is 18-17, Stallard 6-16. In 15 games against the Mets this season the Dodgers have only lost two—and Stallard pitched one of them, a four-hitter July 30.

There was only one game scheduled in the majors Monday. Detroit whipped Washington 4-1.

Norm Cash got the Tigers started with a first-inning homer and Rocky Colavito connected in the fifth with a man on. Phil Regan, touched for Don Blasingame's first-inning homer, won his 15th with one-out relief help from Willie Smith. Regan struck out 10 in 8 2-3 innings.

Trojans Battle Oklahoma (No. 3) Saturday

USC Rated First In Initial Collegiate AP Grid Survey

An early season match that could have a key bearing on the national football title is set for this Saturday—Southern California vs. Oklahoma at Los Angeles.

Southern Cal's defending national champions retained their hold on first place in The Associated Press poll this week—by a narrow margin—and Oklahoma moved up a spot to third. In between is Alabama, which entertains Tulane this Saturday and could shove into the top if the Trojan-Sooner game on the West Coast produces indecisive results. Southern Cal, a struggling 14-0 winner over Colorado in its opener Saturday, had its front-running margin cut drastically. The Trojans received 23 of the 51 first-place votes cast by the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters to 16 for Alabama and on points it was a close 361-355, based on 10 for first, nine for second and so on.

"Bama crushed Georgia 32-7 and took over second from Mississippi, which was held to a scoreless tie by Memphis State and fell from the Top Ten.

Oklahoma whipped Clemson 31-14. Texas climbed up a notch after a 21-0 victory over Tulane, and Navy shot from ninth to fifth on the strength of its 51-7 rout of highly regarded West Virginia.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis:

1. Southern California (23) 361
2. Alabama (16) 355
3. Oklahoma (2) 298
4. Texas 237
5. Navy (3) 228
6. Wisconsin 208
7. Northwestern (5) 197
8. Arkansas 152
9. Georgia Tech 84
10. Pittsburgh (2) 67

Here's how the nation's top ten college football teams fared in Saturday games (season records in parentheses):

1. Southern California (1-0) beat Colorado (0-1) 14-0.
2. Mississippi (0-0-1) tied Memphis State (0-0-1) 0-0.
3. Alabama (10) beat Georgia (0-1) 32-7.
4. Oklahoma (1-0) beat Clemson (0-1) 31-14.
5. Texas (10) beat Tulane (0-1) 21-0 Friday night.
6. Northwestern (1-0) beat Missouri (0-1) 23-12.
7. Wisconsin (1-0) beat Western Michigan (0-1) 41-0.
8. Arkansas (1-0) beat Oklahoma State (0-1) 21-0.
9. Navy (10) beat West Virginia (0-1) 51-7.
10. (tie) Ohio State (0-0) did not play. Washington (0-1) lost to Air Force (1-0) 10-7.

Warren's Warfield Gets Nod At Halfback

3 Sophomores To Start For OSU In Texas A&M Opener Saturday

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three sophomores will be in the starting Ohio State lineup Saturday when the Buckeyes wheel into the 1963 campaign before 80,000 fans with Texas A&M as the foe.

The first-year men are Dwight Kelley, a 212-pounder from Bremen at center; Doug Van Horn, a 226-pounder from Columbus at tackle; and Don Unverferth, a 205-pound 6-foot-3 quarterback from Dayton.

Four seniors and four juniors round out the starting corps, and Coach Woody Hayes is satisfied. He told his first weekly press luncheon guest Monday that team made up from all three classes usually are welded into more cohesive units than those from a single class.

Senior who have grabbed starting berths are Ormonde Ricketts of Springfield at end, Tom Jenkins of Dayton at guard, Paul Warfield of Warren at halfback and Matt Snell of Locust Valley, N.Y., at fullback. The juniors are Bill Spahr of Columbus at end, Ed Orazen of Euclid at tackle, Dan Porretta of Clairton, Pa., at guard and Ben Espy of Sandusky at halfback.

This is the first time the Bucks have faced the Aggies from the Lone Star State, who were beaten 14-6 by Louisiana State Saturday night at Baton Rouge. Ohio State has played Texas teams seven times for a 4-2-1 record.

In the last 20 years Ohio State has lost only two openers—both to Texas teams. Southern Methodist beat the Bucks 32-27 in 1950, and Texas Christian did it 18-14 in 1957. The latter also tied Ohio State 7-7 in the 1961 opener—the lone blemish on that season's Buckeye slate.

Hayes, admitting that he is always optimistic, said he expected the Ohio State team to be a good one capable of "fooling a lot of people." He indicated the Bucks were capable of finishing much higher than the odds-makers seem to believe.

"We are well-conditioned. We have speed, and we have it at the right spots," he said. "Warfield and Espy can fly, and Snell is as fast as most Big Ten fullbacks. Our line will be about average in weight, but it will be the best blocking line in the conference."

"Our passing will be up to our usual standard — we have good passers and good receivers." Some of the guests laughed as he mentioned his passing attack, which has been curtailed to almost nothing in favor of his ground-hugging tactics. Last season the Bucks completed 40 of 103 for 400 yards and 3 touchdowns, while rushing for 2,510 yards and 24 scores.

Hayes laughed, too, as he said "We get kidded a lot about our passing—but we have been winning without passing while teams that were not winning were passing quite often. In 1961 we didn't pass much, either, but we have the most effective aerial attack in the conference. Everytime we threw we averaged 9.2 yards."

Tribe Plays Final

At Stadium Tonight

CLEVELAND (P)—The Cleveland Indians will play their last home game tonight and their opponents will be the Minnesota Twins, who have given the Tribe more trouble than any other team in the league this year.

Mudcat Grant (11-14) or Dick Donovan (11-13) will pitch against Twins' lefty Dick Stigman (15-14). The Indians will be idle Wednesday. They will finish up the season with a four game series at Kansas City starting Thursday night.

East Liverpool Is Eighth In First AP Football Poll Led By Niles

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Red Dragons of Niles McKinley, with three straight victories and an unblemished goal line, are making a big bid to climb back on the high school football throne they occupied in 1961.

Coach Tony Mason's powerhouse pushed its unbeaten streak to 40 Friday with a rousing 46-0 victory over Akron St. Vincent and immediately captured the top spot in the opening Associated Press poll of the campaign.

Niles previously routed Cleveland East Tech 50-0 and Youngstown Cardinal Mooney 46-0 and now boasts a 142-0 scoring edge.

Only 25 Scribes Cast Ballots

Only 25 sports editors voted in the inaugural poll, and 17 were from the upper half of the state, as Niles wound up a clear-cut winner over Mel Knowlton's Alliance Aviators by a 100-139 margin in the poll point column.

Akron Garfield, winner over many-times champion Massillon a week ago, took third place, followed by Sandusky, Massillon, Warren Hardin, Springfield South, East Liverpool, Cincinnati Roger Bacon and Martins Ferry.

From here and there:

Alliance was a 46-0 victor over Massillon last year, but the Aviators are expecting tougher going this weekend. Toledo Central Catholic, 1962 champion, appears out of the current race after losing its second straight to Toledo Waite, 7-6, last week.

Toledo Scott came up with a big victory over Toledo Woodward—4-0 on two last-quarter safeties. Bacon Faces Niles Next

Crestview Snaps Lowellville String
Alliance's Win Young leads rugged Stark County in scoring with 42 points. Lowellville's 36 - game unbeaten streak was halted 8-6 by Crestview of Columbiana County.

Mineral Ridge has scored 170 points in three victories. And Warren Local of Washington County (3-0) halted a 32-game victory string of Williamstown, W. Va.

Calvert had the ball on Clyde's 2-yard line in the second period. On a line plunge the ball popped into the air, and John Dewey, Clyde halfback, snatched it on the 1. He rambled 99 yards—and Clyde won 6-0. Bill Martin of Elmore has gained 594 yards rushing in three tilts, getting 258 in 28 rushes last week.

Steuenville's Big Red, seventh in last year's final poll and loser only to champion Toledo Central, has lost three of its six returning lettermen through injury. Two Big Reds suffered broken legs.

SUNDAY

Crestview's Juniors
Compt To 44-0 Victory
Randy McBride scored four touchdowns and led all ball carriers with 134 yards in 11 carries.
Crestview Junior High School blanked Lowellville 44-0 recently.
McBride made runs of 35, 30, and 15 for his touchdowns. Bob Pesanto dashed 35 yards for another TD, and Doug McLaughlin printed 32 for six more points.
Two-point conversions were made by Paul Cowan on a pair of runs, Cresanto on a run and Jerry Ray on a pass from McLaughlin.
Crestview's coach cited Mike Metzger for his defensive work. The youngster made eight tackles single-handed.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I had one of my very good customers come to me and tell me another customer (not so good) had just put something in her pocketbook. She knew he saw her. She knew that he told me. She took it out and paid for the item.

People if ever you see one do something like that tell the store manager, it's really you they are stealing from.

You could be helping them by putting them back on the right road. I have found shoplifters to be a very miserable lot.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: Someone drew a big "doodle" on my oil cloth with a ball point pen. I couldn't remove it.

One night while peeling potatoes, my scientifically-minded son remarked that raw potato would remove it. I rubbed the ink spot with the raw side of a cut potato and presto... the ink was completely removed.

We tried it on different pieces of vinyl and plastic and it worked everytime. When some marks were stubborn, we just rubbed the raw potato on and left it overnight and the next morning the stains were gone.

AGNES MADDY.

DEAR AGNES: Thank your son for us. We tried your method with seven different kinds of ball point pens. It worked on all except one!

On one piece of white plastic we used your method but a faint red line still remained, so we dipped the potato in scouring powder and scrubbed away... every trace of the ink was removed.

There was still one brand of ball point ink that we couldn't remove and I suggest that before giving your children ball point pens, you test one yourself first to see if you have bought the indelible kind.

Mark on a sample, or old piece of leather and try the potato scrub. If the mark is removed, your ball point is fairly safe.

If the mark is still there, better to buy a new pen or keep it out of the kids' reach.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Many thanks to the lady who told us about using salt to remove onion odor from our hands and appliances. Did you know this also works for garlic?

Whenever I finish slicing or chopping garlic or onion I rub my hands, knife and the cutting board with salt and all the odors disappear. Please tell her thank you for us all.

DIES OF GUN WOUND
BRIDGEPORT, Ohio (AP) — John Davis, 11, was shot accidentally near his parents' home here Monday night and died later in a Martins Ferry hospital.

Police said the youth suffered a shotgun wound in the abdomen from a weapon being handled by a 17-year-old boy. The second youth was hospitalized for treatment of shock, officers said.

POLICE SEEK ROBBER
CINCINNATI (AP)—Police were looking for a tall gunman—perhaps 6-foot-6 — who robbed the Thriftway Super Market in suburban Reading of about $3,000 Monday night.

Four Local Pilots Enjoy Unique Fringe Benefit

Rudd Wilson

Butch Sheely

Sam Brown

Virgil Edgerton

Sam Brown, owner of Sam Brown Dodge garage, has gotten a new type of employees' fringe benefit "off the ground."

In August of 1962, Brown took a light plane in as trade on a car and not knowing exactly what to do with it, or being certain he had made a good deal, he let the craft sit until February.

In February, Brown and three employees, Virgil Edgerton, Butch Sheely and Rudd Wilson, started to rebuild the craft, which was badly in need of repairs.

Work on the plane was completed in April and later in the month Brown, who had been taking flying lessons from Kenny Koons, who owns the air field where the plane is kept, got his flying license.

Sheely and Wilson were also "bitten" by the "flying bug" and have since gotten their licenses. Brown lets the pilots use the plane whenever they want to and, as he puts it, "had to get another plane so I could fly."

Salineville Woman Files Suit for Assault

LISBON — A suit for $15,000 for assault and battery was filed in commonpleas court Monday by Martha L. Lafferty, Salineville RD 3.

Mark Martin, Salineville RD 2, was named defendant.

Mrs. Lafferty claims that on Aug. 31 she was assaulted by the defendant near her store in Salineville.

The defendant was bound over to the grand jury last week on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Lafferty.

DIES IN CAR CRASH

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Council has placed all city employees under civil service. The action Monday night applies to 180 employees formerly not under civil service. Previously, only police and firemen were civil service employees.

Man Bound Over On Burglary Count

LISBON — Floyd M. Walters, 20, Irondale RD 1, was bound over to the grand jury Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for burglary of an uninhabited dwelling.

Walters was apprehended early Saturday morning in Salineville by Mayor Stanley Fitch after he allegedly broke into the Lafferty Store on Wilson St.

Mayor Fitch said he saw two men walking toward the store when he was awakened, but Walters claims he was alone.

Walters is in the county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond set by the court.

ANOTHER BOY FOR DALYS

NEW YORK (AP)—It's another boy for John Daly, moderator of television's "What's My Line," and his wife, Virginia.

Mrs. Daly, daughter of U. S. Chief Justice Earl Warren, gave birth to a 6-pound, 10-ounce boy at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital.

The Dalys also have an 11-month-old son.

ALUMINUM FROM HEAVEN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The automobile of Charles Morris Sr., 58, came under attack from some quarter, and Morris thinks it may have been from the air.

He told police a clanging, banging noise brought him rushing from his house to check the car. He found it had been hit by a number of aluminum nuts and bolts. Morris said no one was in sight, leading him to theorize the nuts and bolts might have fallen from an airplane.
